TRIBAL AND STATE POLICE EARN FEDERAL ENFORCEMENT AUTHORITY IN INDIAN COUNTRY

PHOENIX- More than 40 tribal police officers completed a three-day training course on Friday led by federal prosecutors at the U.S. Attorney's Office in Phoenix. Those who pass the U.S. Bureau of Indian Affairs exam that was given on Friday, June 27th will receive a special law enforcement certificate granting them federal law enforcement authority in Indian Country.

The training was the fourth time that the U.S. Bureau of Indian Affairs and the U.S. Attorney's Office in Arizona have teamed up to give the training over the past year, with approximately 150 tribal and state police officers certified through the program. Officers from the Salt River Pima-Maricopa Indian Community, Gila River Indian Community, Fort McDowell Yavapai Nation, Yavapai-Prescott Tribe, Camp Verde Yavapai-Apache Tribe, the Hualapai Tribe, Pascua Yaqui Tribe, Ft. Mojave Tribe, Colorado River Indian Tribes and Tohono O'odham Nation, the Florence Police Department and officers from the Arizona Department of Public Safety have completed the course in the last year.

The Special Law Enforcement Certificate Card (SLEC) card empowers tribal and state police to make arrests on federal charges in Indian Country, including misdemeanor and felony violations of federal law. This increases the tools and protection available to officers to address areas as common as fire and dumping misdemeanor violations, to investigations and arrests for felonies such as drug trafficking, child sex abuse and murder.

U.S. Attorney Diane J. Humetewa said of the training program, "This training is a force multiplier, allowing tribal, and state police officers to increase the law enforcement efforts within Indian Country communities. I am grateful to BIA for working with the U.S. Attorney's Office and the tribal and state agencies to make this such a success."

The course includes intensive segments on Indian Country Jurisdiction, Indian Country Crimes (The Major Crimes Act), Federal Court Procedure, Civil Liability, Child Abuse and Child Abuse reporting, Central Violations Bureau, Juvenile Process and Procedure, Drug and Firearm Laws and investigation of gang activity, among other areas.

"To provide for the efficient, effective, and cooperative law enforcement efforts in Indian Country, the U.S. Attorney's Office and the U.S. Bureau of Indian Affairs provided their best resources to instruct law enforcement entities applying for federal authority issued by the BIA," said Special Agent in Charge of the Selanhongva McDonald. "I am grateful to the U.S. Attorney of Arizona for assisting the BIA in providing this valuable training to police officers. Without their assistance, we would have been placed on a waiting list. Now with their assistance, we have held four training sessions within the last year."
